Listing of Claims:

1. (Currently Amended) A medical device comprising:
an implantable structure;
a basecoat matrix, including a combination of rapamycin and topotecan, in therapeutic dosages, incorporated in a first polymeric material, the basecoat matrix being affixed to the surface of the implantable medical device; and a topcoat, including a second polymeric material, affixed to the basecoat matrix for controlling the elution rate of the rapamycin and the topotecan, the rapamycin being present in a concentration of about nanomolar to about 10 nanomolar and the topotecan being present in a concentration of about seventy-five nanomolar to about three-hundred nanomolar, wherein the first polymeric material comprises a fluoropolymer comprising polyvinylidene fluoride and hexafluoropropylene in a sixty/fifty weight ratio and the second polymeric material comprises polybutylmethacrylate which when mixed together and precipitated from solution undergo phase separation thereby creating a physical and chemical barrier to drug elution, ~~wherein the first and second polymeric materials are immiscible with respect to one another.~~
